Be safe in our river

The Murray River is a beautiful and inviting place to swim and relax.

Respect the river, and learn of its dangers. Never swim alone. Always swim with your children. Never dive into the river.

River signage helps you understand the dangers of the river. Ask for some assistance if you don’t understand it.

The river looks safe and cool, but below the surface it can be dangerous.

If you get in trouble in the river, remain calm. Float on your back and signal for help.

The river has deep hole and currents that you cannot see. Ask local people where it is safest to swim.
