

Using your kitchen caddy

Using your kitchen caddy is a simple way to collect food scraps while cooking. Empty these into your green kerbside food and garden organics bin when ready.

Council-supplied kitchen caddies are dishwasher-safe and can be hand washed.

Lining your caddy

Compostable bags are specially made to decompose along with the organic material they contain. They are the only bags you should use to line your kitchen caddy and put in your green bin. Biodegradable or plastic bags cannot be used.

You can line your kitchen caddy with:

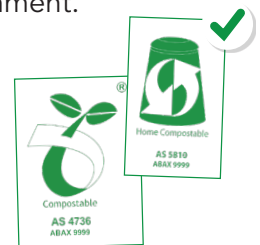

- Newspaper
- Paper towel
- Nothing at all
- Compostable bags

Buying compostable bags

Compostable bags are available at a range of retail outlets and online. Remember to always look for the AS 4736 and/or AS 5810 certification and logos. Caddy Bags must be of a green colouring, as determined by the Victorian Government.

The following online retailers stock compostable bags:

- biobagworld.com.au
- biotuff.com.au
- cardiabioproducts.com
- compostapak.com.au
- sourceseparationsystems.com.au

Compostable bags to use

Green caddy bag

BioBag

Multix Greener Compostable Bags

Cardia my eco bag

Maze Organic Bags

Do not use

Plant based bags

Degradable bags

Recycled bags

Garden bags